XVIIth International Coccidology Symposium (ICS)

28 June-1 July June 2027

Ankara, Türkiye

Dear Colleagues,

We hope this message finds you well.

We are at the end of the year and many coccidologists and entomologists in related areas are asking for information on the new dates for the symposium.

The XVIIth International Coccidology Symposium (ICS) will now be held between June 28th and July 1st, 2027, in Ankara, Türkiye. So please mark your calendar and start preparing for your trip.*

The symposium will be hosted by the Department of Plant Protection, Faculty of Agriculture, Ankara University, Dışkapı, Ankara, Türkiye. The scientific program will encompass all aspects of scale insect research, including systematics and morphology, genetics and evolution, zoogeography and faunistics, biology and population dynamics, natural enemies, monitoring, and pest management.

ICS-XVII aims to bring together researchers and professionals from around the world working on scale insects, providing a forum to exchange ideas and discuss recent advances and emerging trends in coccidology.

Detailed information regarding accommodation, registration and fees, guidelines for abstract and manuscript preparation, the preliminary scientific program, and planned excursions will be announced shortly. Updates will also be made available on the symposium website:
